Core Capital Group Broadens Service Offerings

COLORADO SPRINGS, CO, September 6, 2012 – Core Capital Group, a global investment banking firm, has announced they are broadening their investment banking services to better serve the needs of their clients.

As part of their increased service offerings, they've added Andrew Wick, Senior Analyst, to their staff and promoted Joel Gheen to Associate Managing Director, Corporate Finance.

Andrew Wick will be primarily responsible for valuations and financial modeling for Core Capital Group's clients. Working closely with Core Capital's senior partners and managing directors, Andrew will provide analytical reviews of financial statements and assist in building projections. He will also be involved in the Business Development Group.

Prior to joining Core Capital Group, Andrew spent four years with a major asset-management firm, building investment portfolios for clients. Andrew holds a B.A. in Business Administration from Bethany University. He is pursuing the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA®) designation and has completed Level 1 of the CFA® program. Andrew holds his Series 7 and 66 licenses.

Joel Gheen's primary focus will shift to corporate finance services for Core Capital Group's clients. Joel earned his MBA at the University of Maryland's Smith School and holds his Series 7, 66, and 79 licenses.

"We are pleased with the changes to our staff. Both Joel and Andrew's financial backgrounds and capabilities will provide our clients with tools to help them meet their objectives," said John Graaff, founder and senior partner. "As we continue to grow our company into our third decade of business, we can offer a full range of investment banking services to our clients to better assist them with their goals."
